Announcement

¶ The Ebey diary is concluded in this issue. Its publication has attracted wide attention, especially in the families of pioneers who found well known names of old-time friends mentioned in its pages. The hardships there recited are duplicated in the recollections of the real pioneers.

¶ In the News Department will be found brief mention of three important gifts to the University of Washington made through the Washington Historical Quarterly. This publication joins with the University in extending thanks to the donors—Edith G. Prosch, Clarence B. Bagley, and the Spokane Historical Society through its Corresponding Secretary, William S. Lewis.

¶ The Quarterly is grateful to George H. Himes of the Oregon Historical Society for his neighborly contribution to this issue.
